

A CHILD OF THE UNIVERSE

OS

I may be ~~was~~ wasting room so see hurry up.

You've got to remember all the stuff we've done. The parties we've been to and the ones we've had, ALL the times you ~~sp~~ spent the night at my house and me at yours. I wonder how many times I have walked to your house. About a million, I think. We've done some pretty stupid stuff, so lets keep up the good work and make the Senior year THE BEST!!!

See ya at the SAE house,

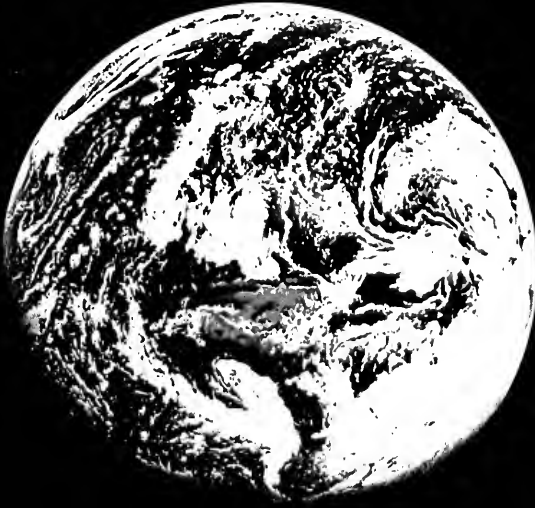

Tricia
(Grisky) "TH"

P.S. Keep Matt for as long as you can - you're got a good thing going.

Jennifer,
One of the nicest
Seniors I know.
Remember all those thrilling musical rehearsals, parties (anyone) and all the other fun times!
Luck Always!

Be Yourself	98
Business Affairs	166

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story.

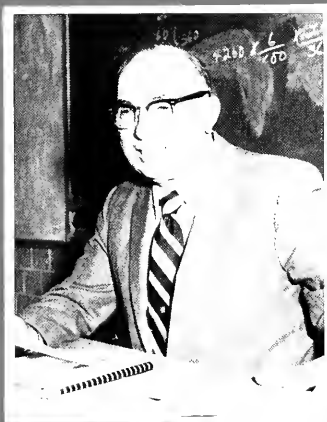

Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexatious to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself.

Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism.

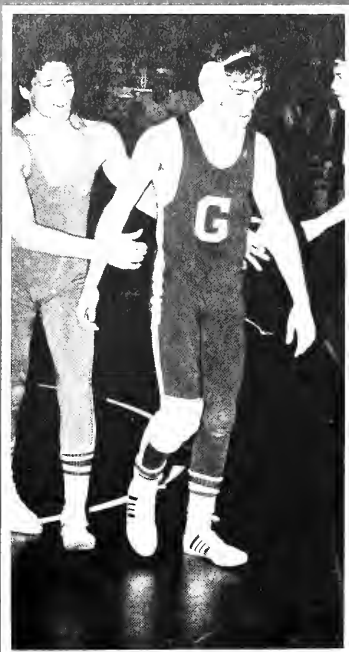

Be yourself. Especially do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is as perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth.

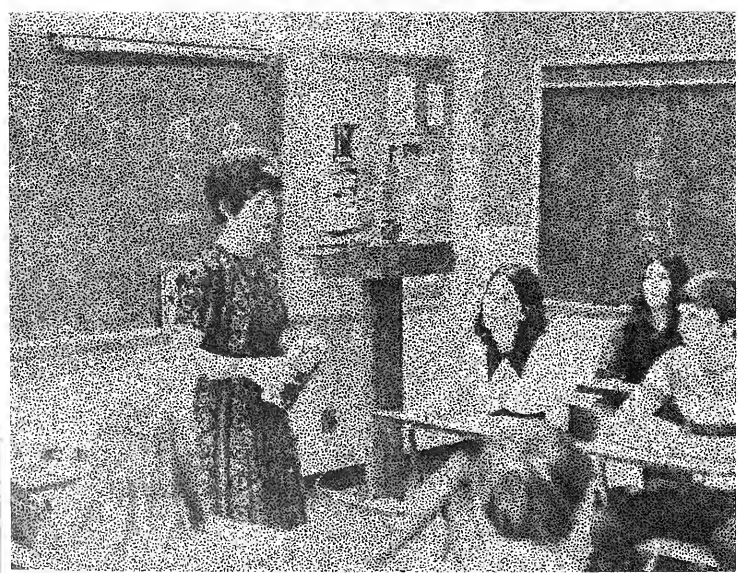

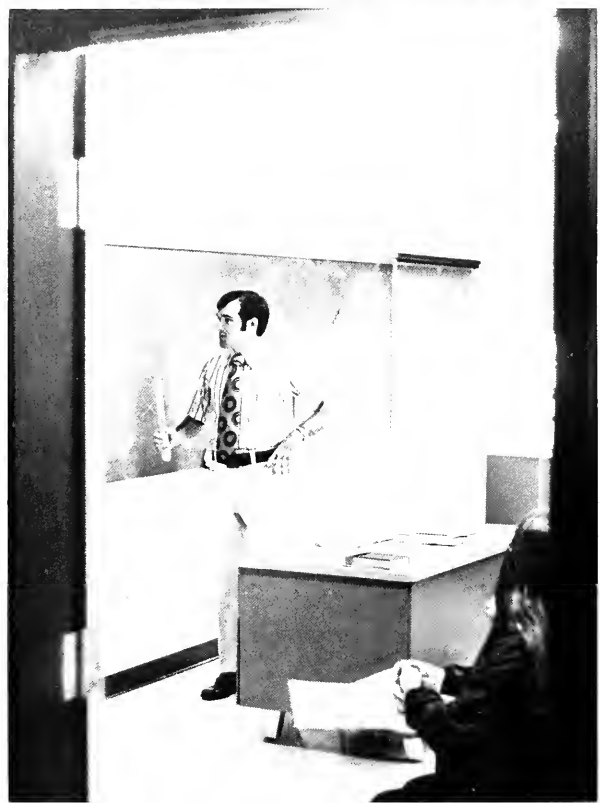

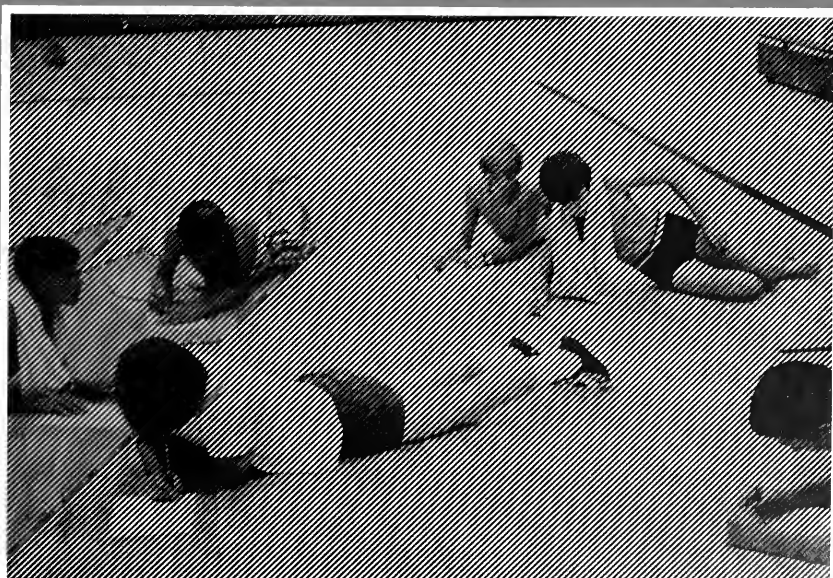

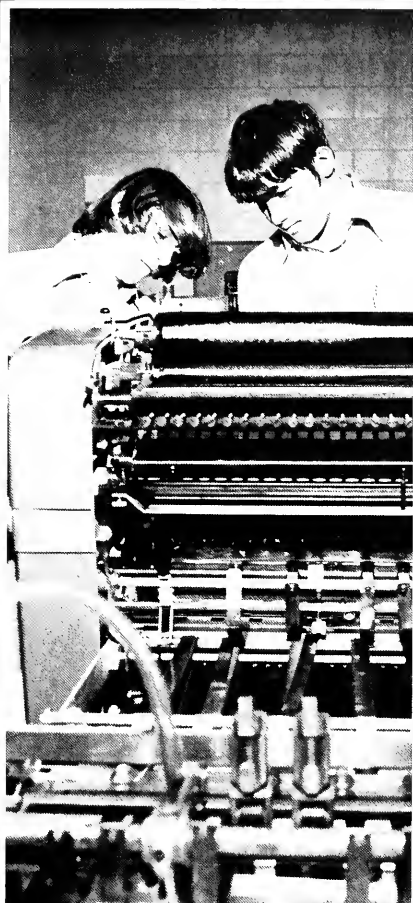

Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself.

Achievements and Plans

Teachers of Tomorrow

This year ten seniors under the guidance of Mrs. Mullendore and Mrs. Wheeler explored the profession of teaching through the cadet teaching program. This program was designed for members of FTA.

Cadet teachers were assigned to either an elementary grade or a junior high grade. The students were in their classes four days a week for one semester; on the fifth day, they met as a group to discuss their experiences and problems. Seniors involved in this year's program included Keith Black, Clark Cranston, Polly Ferguson, Ruth Haymaker, Wesley Hendricks, Connie Poynter, Vickie Rainey, Sherry Spicer, Lana Stevenson and Pam Whittenbarger.

Students Prepare to Enter World of Teaching

Future Teachers of America, a club designed to prepare students for the teaching profession was successfully led this year by sponsors, Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Mullendore.

Interesting guest speakers were invited to speak at their meetings. The money received from the club's only project, selling light bulbs, was used to help finance their annual Ideal Teacher Banquet. The theme of the banquet which was held May 9 in the cafeteria was "Our Wonder Teachers."

Homemakers of Tomorrow

The Home Economics Department participated in a variety of activities during the school year. Field trips were taken to the Gateway Learning Center, Standard Grocery and the Bridal Fair. Students had the opportunity to hear speakers from the Welfare Department and various insurance companies. They also saw demonstrations given by the Indiana Gas and Public Service companies.

Baking and Boiling for the Future

The Future Homemakers of America participated in a variety of activities during the school year. During the Christmas season, new members were entertained at a pitch-in dinner. On St. Patrick's Day, students interested in joining the club were hosted at a dinner complete with green hats and shamrocks.

FHA members attended several district meetings and conferences. They also sold chocolate bars and used the money from sales to purchase new Home Ec. equipment.

Wide World of Agriculture

Getting involved, leadership activities, community development, self-improvement, and progress towards establishment in the agricultural community was what the Agriculture Department was all about.

The Vocational Agriculture Department concerned itself with four areas of instruction. These were: high school day classes, the FFA, and organizations made up of vocational agriculture students who were interested in self improvement on their own. These included the Young Farmers Organization, a group of young farm couples that are part of a state group; and the Adult Farmer Organization, a group of farmers that hold evening classes for self improvement.

“We’re Proud To Be Farmers”

The Franklin Chapter of Future Farmers of America received a third place award in a local livestock judging contest. Before school opened, the FFA officers attended the State Leadership Camp and the State Convention where they received their Hoosier Farm Degrees.

As school began, the club initiated the incoming freshmen at their annual pig roast. The club took trips to the Farm Progress Show in Galesburg, Illinois, and to the Farm Machinery Show in Louisville, Kentucky.

This year the chapter started a new activity for National FFA Week by serving the faculty a sausage and egg breakfast. At the end of the year the club gathered to honor those who deserved recognition at their annual Parent and Son Banquet.

A Head Start on Tomorrow

Through the wide selection of business courses offered, many FCHS students were able to develop proficient skills that will be of great value to them in whatever field they enter.

The Business Department included the classes of typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, office machines, and clerical practice. An intensive office laboratory was offered to seniors only. Also included within the realms of the department was the Student Supply Office where everyday business know-how was practiced by students.

A newcomer to the business staff was Mrs. Cummings, whose teaching assignment included Typing I and Shorthand II.

Special recognition was given to Mr. Church, who after thirty-five years of service to the school, retired from the teaching profession.

Central 9 Adds to Education

A recent addition to the curriculum of regional schools is the Area Nine Vocational School located in Greenwood. Students travel to the school to spend a concentrated three hours in their selected subject.

Local high school students may enroll at Central Nine as either tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade students. Most courses are oriented to a two-year, four semester span and are coordinated to give the maximum time in a learning situation. The general feeling about the program can be summed up in one student's comment, "It's a lot of fun but you learn a lot!"

Below: Learning how to use equipment properly is an exacting part of Central Nine's teaching situation. Bob Paris uses a vise and file under the watchful eye of Mr. Duboise.

Tomorrow's Leadership Taught Today

Members of FBLA were afforded many opportunities to develop their leadership potentials in business. They were rewarded on a point system for aiding teachers, selling money-making projects, attending meetings, achieving the A or B honor roll, or for helping to maintain an informative display case in the north end of the main hall. All club members who had earned 25 service points during the year were then eligible to attend the annual FBLA convention at Ball State University.

The money necessary to send club members to the convention and for the maintenance of the club was raised through a jewelry sale which profited $600. The sale of FBLA letter jackets, another fund-raising project, encouraged leadership by awarding a free jacket to top salesman.

Mrs. Sturgeon and the new sponsor, Mrs. Cummings, supervised the monthly meetings at which various guests kept the students informed of the current trends and the many opportunities available in the business world.

DECA: On the Job Training

Working in the school and community, DECA members have a full time job. After spending their morning studying in the classroom, they are then dismissed for on-the-job training.

Distributive Education is for juniors and seniors only who want to work full time immediately after graduation.

Some of their activities for this past year have been to have various speakers talk about their jobs to the class. They have also attended conventions and participated in district competition.

OEA: Preparing for the Future

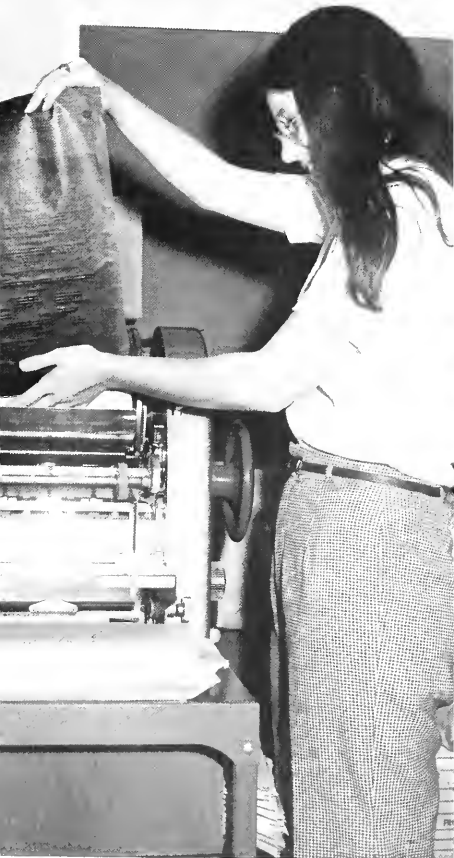

A very active club this year, OEA (Office Education Association) took many field trips including a visit to Eli Lilly. They scheduled guest speakers, worked on special community and school projects and had a fund raising campaign. During this campaign they sold brag books, stationery, napkins, cook book clips and two-year calendars.

At the end of the year, club members attended several conferences and contests.

Camera Club: Focusing on Photography

Formed to further a student's interest in the field of photography was the Camera Club under the direction of Mr. Burmeister. Mike Miller, newly elected president, led the club in their activities.

On one field trip, the club visited the Nash Studios where they learned several techniques important in the taking and developing of pictures. They also examined the modern color equipment used by this studio.

Industrial Arts Develop Vocational Skills

The industrial arts program of FCHS was continually striving to improve the program offered to students this year. The department consisted of five courses, drafting, woods, electricity, metals and printing. Mr. Kaufman was the new department head.

Various projects were undertaken by the classes in the department. Some of these included individual projects in woodworking, such as making checkerboards and shelves, printing the newspaper in vocational printing classes, and exploring the field of electronics in electricity. Each member of Mr. Kaufman's machine shop classes was required to complete an individual project by the end of the semester.

New Sounds Plus New Looks

New ideas, including a space-chromatic banjo and a mirror wheel, were introduced to the Choral Department this year. The Heritage Singers also gained a new look and sound with the addition of contemporary costume and music repertoires.

The department, composed of three choirs: the Girls' Choir, the Cadette Choir, and the Concert Choir, combined to present a "Fall Festival of Song" and a program for the lighting ceremonies of the Christmas decorations in downtown Franklin. The annual Madrigal Dinner was held in the cafeteria on December 17. They also presented a January concert and the musical, "Bye, Bye Birdie."

One pupil expressed it best when he said, "Sure it was a lot of hard work for everyone, but I can't wait until next year to start working again!"

Musical: Rock n' Roll Hysteria

Hysteria, bewilderment and romance filled the 1973 Choral Department musical, "Bye, Bye, Birdie." Over one hundred and twenty students participated in this tale of Conrad Birdie, drafted singing idol, who left his manager without a means of making a living.

Quick set changes and choreography by Barbara Toole and Lou Ann Wolfe added to the appearances of the play, presented on April 5, 6 and 7.

Under the tutelage of Miss Taylor, student directors, Dennis Morefield and Pam Whitham, shouldered much of the burden of making "Bye, Bye, Birdie" a success.

"And the Beat Goes on . . ."

"Practice, practice and more practice" were words quite familiar to the band students at FCHS as they spent many hours working on their musical numbers and their marching routines.

In addition to the many new faces in the band itself, a new director, Mr. Weimer, and a new assistant director, Mr. Lucas, were welcomed to the department.

The Band Department actually consisted of five bands: the Marching Band, the Pep Band, the Concert Band, the Stage Band, and the Freshmen Band.

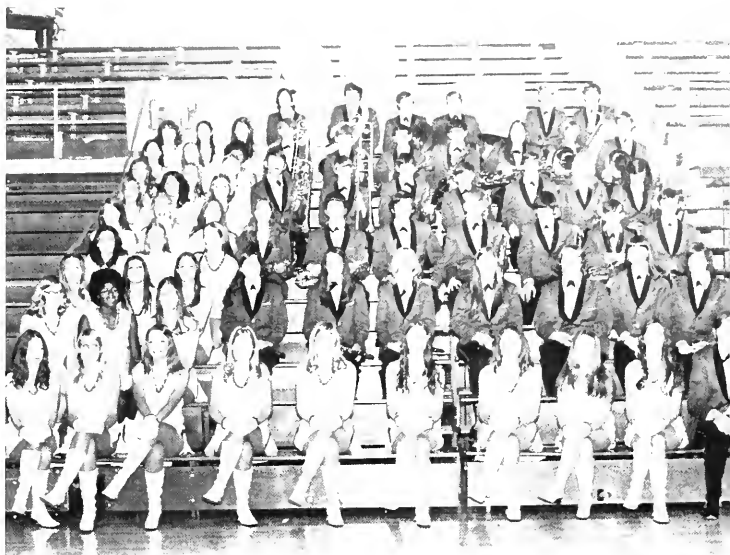

Activities of the five bands included performing during halftime at football and basketball games, playing for the choir's musical, "Bye, Bye Birdie," and its concerts as well as marching in various parades. The band also held a concert of its own in spring.

Enthusiastic Majorettes “Get It On”

A continued attraction at the FCHS football games and basketball games was the majorettes performing their various routines during many of the halftime intermissions.

This year the majorettes were divided into two corps, the pom-pom corp with Susie Padgett as assistant head and the flag corp with Vicki Woodrum as assistant head.

Heading the combined corps this year was Cindy Tranter. One important facet of her job was to make up routines for the groups and teach them to the thirty-three girls.

Besides adding color and enjoyment to the ballgames, the majorettes performed at parades, competed in contests, and ushered at band concerts.

Increased Representation of Student Body

Student Council found itself a much larger club with a more complete representation of the student body. With the election of a council representative from each homeroom rather than just two members being elected from each class, the size of the club almost doubled.

In addition to its usual yearly activities, one of the first projects initiated this year was the purchasing of plaques to be inscribed with the names of those students who were elected "good citizens" from each class. These plaques were engraved with this year's winners as well as past winners and placed in the trophy case near the Medallion. Club members also voted to donate money to help complete the construction of the tennis and basketball courts which were completed this year.

New Faces Bring New Ideas

Added to the English Department, one of the largest departments in the school, were four new teachers, Mr. Unsworth, Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Wyand and Mrs. Essex.

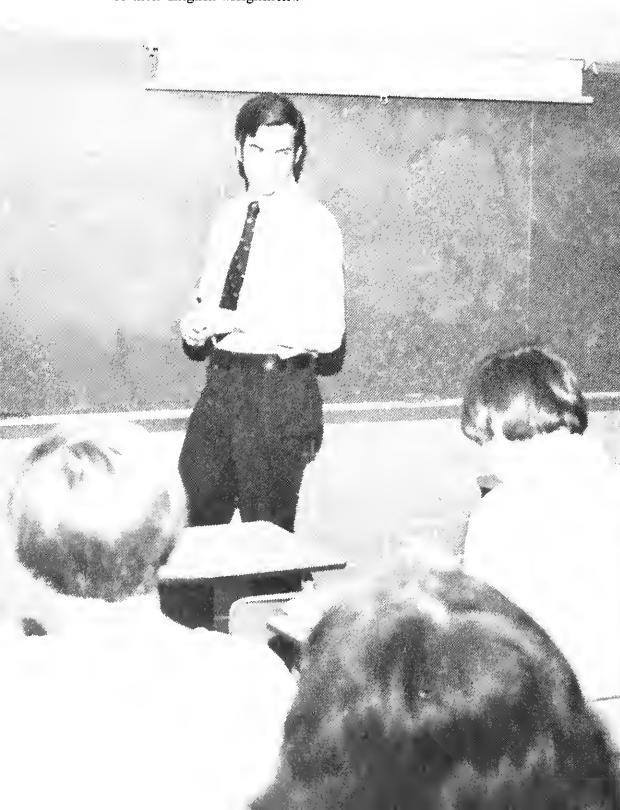

In addition to the new teachers many new ideas were also introduced. Freshman and sophomore students changed teachers and classes at mid-term, thereby taking a semester of grammar and a semester of literature. As one student commented, "It kept us (teachers and students) from getting tired of one another and made class more interesting." Another change was the elimination of class tracking.

Reading Lab facilities were also expanded with the purchase of 438 books.

Astrology Invades High School

Astrology, astronomy, and an imposter in Galileo High School were the subjects in the all-school play, "You Were Born on a Rotten Day." Held on November 17 and 19, the play was a narration of the events fostered by the appearance of Ptolemy, the Astrologer. Wes Hendricks, in the double role of Ptolemy and Professor Claude Jones, managed to gain a new telescope for his Science Department by convincing Councilman Banks (Tom Coward), Professor Huxley (John Carpenter) and Coach Bascom (Jeff Eggers) that the stars foretold a horrible disaster if they did not agree.

Other characters were played by Rita Rabennack as the principal, Ruth Haymaker as Agatha Johnson, Debbie Ford as Connie Constellation, Beth Chupp as Miss Marks, and Cindy Tranter as Yvonne Smith, a student teacher to Mr. Jones.

Play directors this year were Mr. David England and Mrs. Barbara Dunn.

Amateurs Receive Stage Experience

Franklin High School's drama class showed evidence of many weeks of hard work when they presented their one-act play on March 23.

This one-act play, "I Never Saw Another Butterfly," was a production presented entirely by the drama class. Much of their class time was also spent on the various other aspects of play work such as publicity, costumes, and stage props.

This production was given under the leadership of Mrs. Dunn, a new addition to the English Department; and through her help and cooperation, the members of the class were able to gain first-hand stage experience for themselves.

Nucleus of Informative Activity

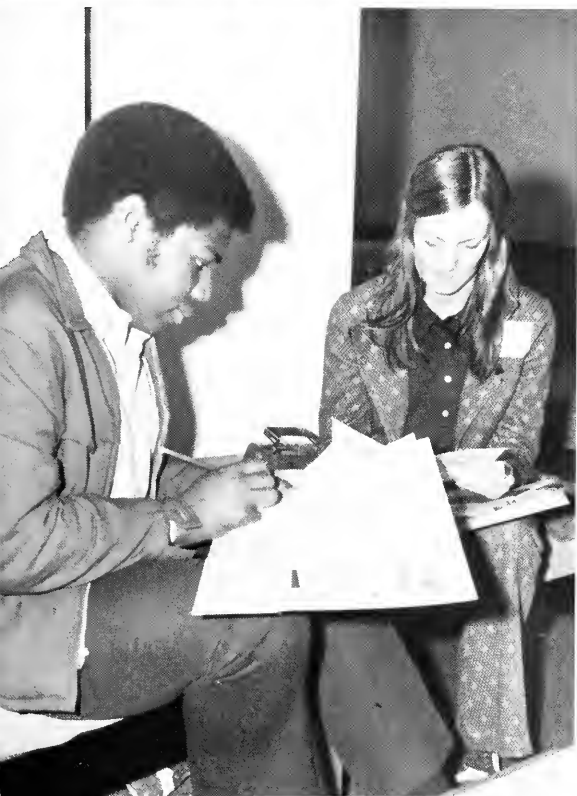

"Write, proofread, and rewrite" were everyday directions for the new sponsor, Mrs. Barbara Dunn, to her staff of thirty on the Electron. Always striving for perfection, new ideas for the paper were gained by the staffers who attended journalism workshops during the summer.

New features included drawings which helped to illustrate the "Fashion Corner". The "Sports Scene" and the "Senior Symposium", a forum of thoughts and ideas from seniors on current, local and national issues, replaced such former articles as "Lill's Pills" and the "Senior Spotlight". The gossip column, "Under the Medallion", was still a strong favorite among the students.

Issues were distributed approximately every two weeks during sixth hour. Extra editions were printed for such special occasions as the North Central Evaluation.

Money for producing the paper, which is printed by the students, came from student fees and the Halloween mixer.

Above left: Concluding their hard work, the Electron staffers meet their deadline by pasting together the paper to prepare it for printing.

$2,000 Ad Sales Add to Production of KITE

The selling of ads was a new experience for this year's seventeen Kite members. Their $2,000 goal was achieved and celebrated with a pizza party given by their new sponsor, Mrs. Bailey.

Money resulting from the ad sales was used to enhance the publication of the Kite. Additional pages with more color were added and the size of the book was increased. The remainder of this money was used to send staffers to journalism workshops during the summer months. Staff members also participated in various journalism days at other schools throughout the year.

Other fund-raising projects included the selling of concessions at home football games and a mixer which featured a disc jockey, a dance contest and the crowning of Mr. and Miss Kite.

Foreign Languages Open New Worlds

"Hola," "Amo," and "Bonjour" were words heard in the halls of FCHS as foreign language students demonstrated their newly acquired knowledge. As communications throughout the world increased, the study of language became increasingly more popular which was true even here at FCHS.

Three different languages, French, Latin, and Spanish were offered to students. In these courses, information dealing with all areas of the language was taught, from basic vocabulary to religion and the origins of the various countries. Foreign language teachers attempted to create interest in as many different aspects of the language and the customs of the people using it.

A.F.S. Program Broadens Outlooks

American Field Service is an adult-student organization which promotes relations between our community and communities overseas. This year we were fortunate to have with us Bowen Waidee from Thailand and Ligia Britto from Brazil.

The two exchange students were here in the state for the past twelve months. Bowen lived with the Coward family and Ligia lived with the Drake family. They observed the customs and cultures of our small midwestern town.

This coming year Tom Coward has the privilege of going abroad to a French speaking country. This was the first year that any FCHS student would be sent overseas for a year.

The money making project for AFS was the annual Franklin 100 Bicycle Race. Included in this was the old folks' tandem race, the girls' trike race, and the boys' 100 lap race. This year the queen was Diane Lorraine.

Tempest Fugit in Latin Club

Latin Club observed many Roman festivities during the year. In the fall, the first-year Latin students were auctioned to the people of Rome (second, third, and fourth year students). The slaves were to serve their masters throughout the year. The highlight of the year's activities was the Roman Banquet held in the spring. There many Latin customs were practiced.

Los Amigos Promote Pennants

New sponsors brought new ideas to Los Amigos. Halloween insurance disappeared like the ghosts who promoted it, to be replaced by the sale of FCHS pennants, which now adorn the rooms of many loyal students. The proceeds from the sale will sponsor another exchange student from Veracruz, Mexico. This year's exchange student was Roberto Ramirez, a delightful addition to the school for the first six weeks.

Mrs. Diaz, the Spanish gourmet, lent much to the annual Spanish Club banquet held for those students who helped with the sale of pennants.

Members of the French Club found themselves busy doing a variety of things. In the fall, the club held an initiation for its new members. During the Christmas season, they sang carols to the student body. In the spring the members visited Chez Jean (The House of John) where they sampled French food. French-speaking waitresses and pictures of France on the restaurant's walls lent a French cafe atmosphere as members found their knowledge really being tested.

Science: A Field of Opportunities

Life science, a two-semester course designed specifically for freshmen to fulfill their requirements in science, was offered for the first time this year. The course consisted primarily of experimentation and observation with much of the reading normally found in a science course eliminated.

Two new teachers were also added to the staff this year. Teaching one section of Biology I and life science was Mr. Cox, while Mr. Ferrand taught a second section of Biology I.

Heading the Science Department, which had now grown into one of the largest departments at FCHS, for her second year, was Mrs. Mattick.

Science Club: Striving and Achieving

A trip to the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry highlighted this year's activities of the Science Club. Under the direction of sponsors, Mrs. Mattick and Mr. Flanagan, and President John Grimmer, the club members learned about the role of science in the world today through films and speakers. Some of the speakers heard by the members throughout the year included Mr. Roman from Eli Lilly who discussed bacteriology; micro waves were treated by Mr. Rupp from Bendix. Professor Nicely from Franklin College discussed the insects in Africa.

Another trip sponsored by the club for the senior members was a tour of the Eli Lilly Company plant.

New Angles of Math

The Math Department added an important new course, computer math, to their list of classes already offered. This program was open only to students who had completed Algebra I, geometry and Algebra II. In the near future, the course, according to Mrs. R. Smith, Department Chairman, may be offered to other students who have not taken the prerequisite subjects.

Computer math is designed to aid those students who plan to major in math or science during college and also to help students who plan a career in computer science. Their computer terminal is presently on line with GE in Cleveland, Ohio.

Experiences in Living

The Special Education Department with its three new teachers and one new aide implemented several programs designed to develop their students' skills.

A work evaluation program for juniors and seniors whereby students completed a project such as the making and selling of candles or the sewing of ties before going out on their actual jobs was incorporated. Freshmen students became involved in the PVE program which enabled them to visit possible places of employment.

Where GAA Ends, IHSAA Begins

Girls broke the all-boy tradition in athletics by participation in the Girls' Athletic Association where they learned new skills and sportsmanship by competing in various sports.

Under the rules of GAA, members participated in such sports as volleyball, basketball, swimming, bowling and track. Many girls participated in golf, which was under the auspices of the IHSAA. The girls also worked on many fund-raising projects for the club.

THE TEAM!

Skills Gained Through Activities

The physical education classes, under the direction of Miss Stohler and Mr. Newsom, experienced a wide variety of activities to gain athletic skills.

Girls' P.E. classes participated in winter sports such as volleyball, basketball, crab ball, swimming, tumbling, and gymnastic stunts. Spring sports for the girls consisted of track and field, baseball, and soccer.

Mr. Newsom's classes study a slightly different curriculum of activities such as wrestling, basketball, track and field, swimming, and football.

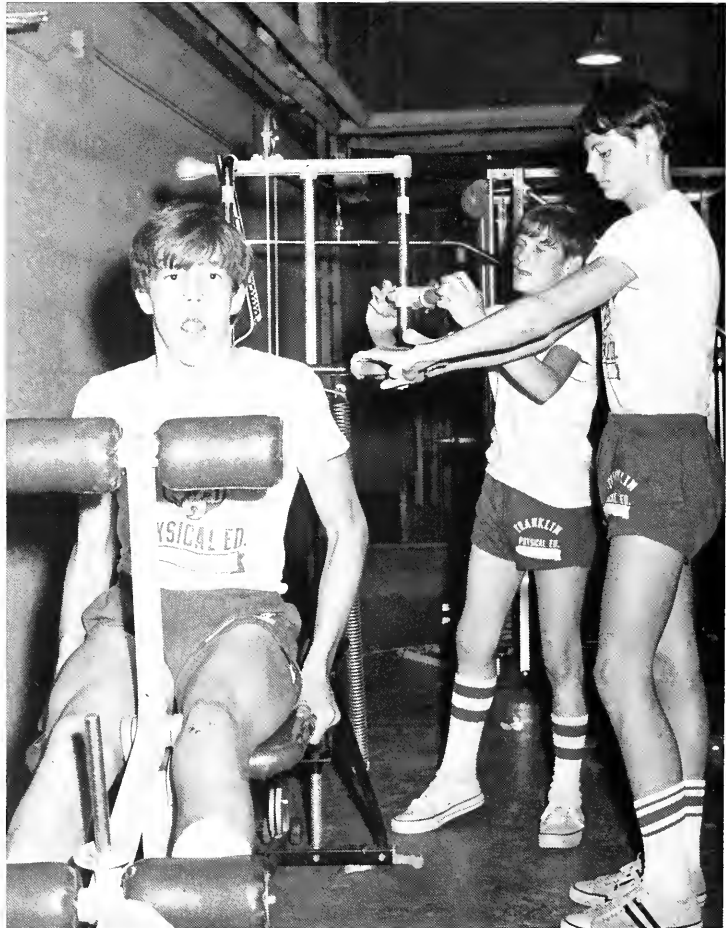

There is a three-semester requirement of physical education for all students at FCHS but it is usually taken during the freshman and sophomore years.

FCHS also offers physical ed. in summer school. Some of the summer activities are bicycle hikes, tennis, bowling, and miniature golf.

Right: Working out with the new weight machine proves to be exhausting for Brian Cross, Larry Eldridge, and Bruce Williams.

Health and Drivers' Ed. Stress Safety

A semester requirement that all students at FCHS must take in order to graduate is Health. Drugs, venereal diseases, anatomy of the body, and environmental pollution are some of the many areas covered by this course. The classes also participated in community affairs such as the Auto Exhaust Check and the Christmas Seal Campaign.

Drivers' Education is an elective course designed to familiarize the students with the rules involved with driving a car. As enrollment per semester is limited to nine students, only those pupils who are at least fifteen years of age are eligible. Heading the entire program this year is Mr. Trueblood.

Below: Drivers Ed students step out to a new phase of learning as they prepare to start their driving section of the class.

History, geography, economics, civics, and sociology are just a few of the areas covered by the teachers in the Social Studies Department. Many projects and panels were used to further student interest and participation in these areas.

To acquaint his senior civics students with the workings of a democracy, Mr. Hamlin divided the students into committees and then formed a Senate and a House of Representatives with the two classes. Each student in the groups was responsible for the preparation and the submission of one bill. After a debate on each of the bills, the class voted together and passed only one of the bills.

In Mrs. V. Smith's sociology class, students became more involved in the class by making surveys on drugs and by taking a trip to the local jail.

New Insight into the World of Creativity

Great variety was shown in the different art classes this year. The first-year students began the year with a lesson in perspective skills. Second-year students studied design and the third-and fourth-year students enjoyed trying their hands at a new media, oil painting.

At Christmas all art students made paper mache animals, carrying out the theme of the display, "Join the Triumph of the Sky."

The predominate idea underlying the year's work was to teach students how to fully develop their talents.

HONARTists Bring Back Nostalgia

The long hours spent by Honart members preparing for this year's banquet were rewarded by the complimentary words heard from the alumni attending the affair. A rose garden, a general store and a gazebo were some of the decorations used to carry out the theme, "The Gay Nineties."

Honart members, led by Steve Cearing, also held a mixer and an initiation banquet.

Honor Society: Cream of the Crop

Led by its president, Garry Abplanalp, the Nettie Craft Chapter of the National Honor Society held its annual banquet and initiation to recognize those students who are academically and civically outstanding.

After introducing parents of old and new members, the initiates were presented their certificates, pins and membership cards. Guest speakers were four fellow students addressing the audience on the four qualities of an Honor Society member.

Hi-Y, the Christian service club composed of junior and senior boys, began their year's activities with an initiation held jointly with Tri-Hi-Y. These clubs co-sponsored many projects this year. During the Christmas season, they sang carols to the aged in the homes and hospitals around Franklin. They worked together on the annual Sweetheart Dance held at Webb. Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y also entered teams in the AFS Franklin 100.

The year's activities ended with the presentation of the annual Hi-Y Follies in May. Proceeds from this show were donated to the Hi-Y scholarship fund which grants money to a senior boy who has excelled in scholarship and service.

Future Entertainers Provide Fun

Singing groups, acrobatics, dance and majorette routines—all contributed to the success of the annual Hi-Y Follies. Humorous fillers between acts, provided by Hi-Y members, added to the evening's entertainment.

This year all four categories were combined and a prize of twenty-five dollars was given for the best overall act. This year the prize was awarded to a musical group called Sun. Members of the band included Bob Blake, Bob Johnson, Bob Richard, John McKee and Jim Ridge, with Dan Lamey the soloist.

The entertainment was hosted by Bob DeWitt and Matt Kelley with Mike Breck providing the serious side to the show. All together they made the evening quite enjoyable for all that attended.

Tri-Hi-Y Broadens its Scope

In attempting to live up to their motto of creating, maintaining, and extending throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character, Tri-Hi-Y members performed many varied activities.

Various members of the club read morning devotions, prepared holiday baskets for the needy, and sang Christmas carols for the aged.

Also important to the club was entertainment. The Junior-Senior Powder Puff Football Game was held in October, and the Sweetheart Dance, formerly sponsored by Honart, was this year jointly sponsored by Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y.

Another one of the club's projects included the sending of six students to serve as delegates to a mock United Nations Assembly held April 5, 6, and 7 in Indianapolis. The countries represented were Togo, Chad, and Guyana. Each country was represented by two delegates. Girls attending the assembly were Gail Dasbach, Pam Palmer, Sheryl Fisher, Diane Ramsey, Ann Pemberton, and Sharon Burton.

The annual Ideal Lady Banquet, where each girl selected a lady she felt would fit the role of an ideal lady, was held on April 13.

Battle of the Football Feminines

Cute but clumsy cheerleaders, ridiculous but righteous refs, and smiling, swooning coaches combined with frantic, fumbling, football feminines were just a few of the sights at the FCHS football field the night of October 11 when the Tri-Hi-Y sponsored their annual Powder Puff football game.

Although the rain-soaked field did not favor itself to fancy footwork, Karon Workman managed to splash through for a senior touchdown, and Bobbie Cordell maneuvered around senior blockers to plunge into the end zone for the junior score. The seniors executed a two-point conversion play to win the contest 8-6. Bruises were many but the only major injury was a broken arm suffered by senior Jayne Waggoner.

Jr. Hi-Y: Challenges for Life

Under the leadership of President Darrell Duckworth, Jr. Hi-Y had a variety of interesting films and speakers.

Speakers included Mr. Self who addressed the members on the concerns of dating. Don McGlocklin and Steve Yount described the summer FCA conference they attended. The club also viewed films on Tom Landry, Dallas Cowboy coach.

Growing Through Giving

Many varied activities and projects were participated in by Jr. Tri-Hi-Y. Some of this year's projects were selling candy, holding a fashion show, supporting a Korean orphan and collecting for the March of Dimes. The club also held an initiation, served at the Honor Society Banquet and co-sponsored the Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Spirit of '73 Involved School and Community

Under the guidance of Miss Stohler, this year's Pep Club members became more organized than they were in previous years and formed a pep block composed of both boys and girls. Navy blue sweatshirts were adopted as the official uniforms of the members.

During the basketball season, one of the most popular sayings around FCHS, as well as around the community, was the chant, "We've got a team going all the way." This was just one of the many slogans echoed by the members of the most spirited and enthusiastic Pep Club in the school's history.

This enthusiasm was projected by the entire community as the basketball team progressed to the state finals. The Old Folks' Club members purchased shirts to make their spirit known and organized an honor banquet for the team.

Coaches and Players Combine Efforts

With Coach Trueblood at the helm for the fourth consecutive year, the Grizzlie Cubs posted a respectable 4-6 record. The season was characterized by a tough schedule including the number one ranked team in the state, the Bloomington State Panthers.

The Cubs opened their season on the road against a strong Whiteland team with the Warriors prevailing. After a loss to the Pike Red Devils and an SCC victory over the Greensburg Pirates, the Cubs were ready to do battle with the mighty Bloomington South Panthers.

The Cubs entered the Bloomington game with high spirits and determination but neither was enough as the mighty Panthers prevailed. Next, the Cubs faced perennial power Jeffersonville. Although the Cubs led at halftime 7-0, the Red Devils came alive to pull off a victory. Following an SCC victory over the Seymour Owls, the Cubs were ready for their homecoming game with Martinsville. The Artesians, featuring a balanced running attack, defeated the Cubs. The team closed out the season with a victory over Center Grove and a loss to Greenwood.

Several Cubs received honors at the conclusion of the season. Ed Trogdon received honorable mention as All-State Quarterback and Don McGlocklin was All-SCC. Several players made the All-County Team. Dave Walters was named the Most Valuable Player, capping off another football season.

Wonder Five: Soul, Spirit, and Togetherness

The 1972-73 feminine wonder five began their year with the selling of combs to raise funds for new uniforms. During the summer they attended cheerleading camp and received first-place ribbons at the daily tryouts held in the evenings plus two spirit sticks and an overall second place trophy. In August and September they earned first place in county fair competition and tenth at the Indiana State Fair.

Planning pep sessions, helping in the arrangement of homecoming activities and leading cheers at the various games were their main duties. In addition to this, the cheerleaders presented oral skits during morning announcements to arouse the spirit of the student body for the approaching game. During the basketball season they helped keep the spirit at an all-time high by planning such events as clash day and a Charles Atlas Look Alike Contest.

Cubs Live Up to Great Expectations

If one were looking for a word to describe the 72-73 basketball season, the only word to fit the purpose would be TREMENDOUS. Everyone had been talking about the Cubs and their expectations since the 68-69 seventh grade team. These expectations were fulfilled during regular season play. The Cub hoopsters finished with a 17-3 record during season play. They also gained a share of the South Central Conference Championship with Jeffersonville. In the final polls of the season, FCHS was ranked tenth by the AP and thirteenth by UPI.

One fatal week stood between the Cubs and an even better record. After losing Don McGlocklin in practice that week with a chipped bone in his ankle, Cub spirits were down. If losing Don were not enough, the Cubs lost 6' 7" center Jerry Jewell for the year with a knee injury in the Jeffersonville game. Two of the Cub losses were picked up that weekend, a fifteen point loss to Jeff and a close four point decision to New Albany. The only other loss was to Hammond High in the Carmel Holiday Tourney.

Tourney Time Brings Out the Best

Riding the crest of a twelve-game winning streak, the Cubs played the role of the favorites in the sectional portion of the annual basketball tourney at Whiteland. Having beaten every team in the sectional during seasonal play, the Cubs were tabbed the team to beat. Saturday night, February 24, the Cubs downed Center Grove and walked away with the sectional crown.

For the Grizzlies the advent of the regional brought more spirit as well as the new nickname of Wonder Cubs. The Cubs advanced to the championship with a surprisingly easy victory over Greenfield Central. In the championship game, the Cub defense did the job, holding Bloomington South to 40 points while the offense piled up 70 points. As the nets were being cut, the cheer, "On to Hinkle," echoed through the building. The Cub machine was truly rolling on.

For the first time since 1939, a Franklin team was represented at Hinkle Fieldhouse. The first opponent was a very physical Speedway team. The Cubs outplayed the larger Sparkplugs in every aspect of the game and waltzed into the title game against Richmond. The Red Devils proved to be a worthy opponent for the first half. The Cub machine started to click in the third quarter and pulled away with the semi-state crown, 67-53.

With the full support and spirit of all Johnson County, the Cubs rolled into Indiana University's Assembly Hall. New Albany, one of three teams to defeat the Cubs in regular season, was the opponent. The Bulldogs were responsible for the heartbreak of the season. The dreams of a state championship were shattered in a 77-76 overtime loss. With nine of twelve players returning next year, the motto "Once more in '74" was adopted, and another dream began.

Far left: Nothing can stop Don McGlocklin when he drives for the basket.

Left: A familiar sight throughout the basketball season was Garry Abplanalp looking for an assist.

Young Cubs Continue Winning Tradition

The 72-73 reserve team finished their campaign with a fine 14-6 record. This record was the best ever at Franklin for Coach Chastain. Stellar performances were turned in by everyone throughout the year. The Columbus Reserve Tourney was just one highlight of the season. After defeating Seymour in the first round, the Cubs were ready for the championship contest. This was the first time in a number of years that a Franklin team has ever gotten to the final game. After leading for the first three quarters, the Cubs succumbed to the pressure and went down to the host Bulldogs.

The freshmen cagers also kept the winning spirit of Franklin alive and kicking by posting a fine 26-6 record.

New Coaches, Old Idea: “Win”

When Franklin's two new wrestling coaches, Mr. Cox and Mr. Unsworth, took charge, they had one objective in mind. That objective was to have a winning team and to instill a winning spirit into all of the grapplers. They accomplished both.

The team finished with a respectable record. No one gave the Cubs a chance in the county meet; but to the surprise of everyone except the Cubs themselves, the grapplers brought home a second place finish. FCHS had five individual champions. After the county meet came the all-important sectional. The Grizzlies qualified four wrestlers for the regional. They were: Brad Crowe, Jeff Wyrick, Wayne Wiseman, and Steve Compton. All in all, it was a very good year for FCHS grapplers and their two new coaches.

Young and Capable Swimmers Gain Experience

Coach Beier's tankers had a slow but prosperous season this year. Due to only two returning juniors, the team consisted primarily of underclassmen. The freshman swimmers showed great promise for next year by breaking many of the old freshman records.

Senior Richard Hass, the team's most valuable swimmer, broke the record in the 100-yard butterfly by three seconds and junior Rick Furgeson set a new diving record. Hass qualified for the state meet and finished tenth in the finals.

The team finished sixth in the South Central Conference in a field of eight and fifth in a field of fourteen in the sectionals. With Hass finishing in tenth place at the state meet, the team placed twenty-fifth. The tankers' record at the end of the season was a weak 5-9 but Mr. Beier has great hopes for the future.

Golf Season: One of the Best Ever

After giving fine performances in the state golf finals during the summer, the members of the 1972-73 golf team returned and merged their efforts to once again turn in one of their finest season records. The team finished the year with a 21 won and 3 lost record. Highlighting the season's wins was placing third in the South Central Conference and capturing the Johnson County meet for the fifth straight year. Leading the linksters through this year's outstanding playing was team captain, Greg Sanders, the only senior member.

At the sports banquet, junior golfer, Paul Marchand, received the Most Valuable Player award.

Cross Country: Improvement Plus

Franklin's cross country team started off the season in a close dual meet with Whiteland, losing by only three points. In their next three meets the harriers were victorious. The team made excellent showings in all their big meets with an eighth in the sectional, sixth in the S.C.C. and third in the Franklin Central Invitational and County Meet.

Leading the way for the Cubs, Frank Shidler made outstanding showings in all the meets and was named Most Valuable Runner at the Fall Sports Banquet. The team had one of their best seasons ever finishing with a 6-3 dual meet season.

Tracksters Dash to County Crown

Boasting two of the state's top runners in Brent Waymire and Gregg Hart and a new head coach, a fine season was anticipated. Mr. Self took over the lead position after Mr. Bohlson departed to accept a similar position at Southport.

The first meet was a preview of the season to come. Although finishing third to two of the state's top teams, the Cubs made their presence felt. Hardluck struck the team early in the season. Waymire was injured in an early meet and his absence was strongly felt. His participation could have turned the track record around.

When the county meet rolled around, the team was healthy and ready to defend their crown. With exceptional performances from everyone, the Cubs again reigned as county champs in track.

Three cub cindermen, Waymire, Hart, and Tony Frost represented Franklin in the regional meet at North Central.

Cub Batmen Steal County Crown

With several returnees from last year's county champions, the prospects for a successful season were high. Three Cubs were called on to pitch during the course of the year. Senior Dan Lewis and juniors Darrell Heuchan and Tim Myers were the heavy workers on the mound. Strong hitting was provided by Heuchan, Garry Abplanalp and Chris McCarty. The annual county tourney rolled around and brought out the best of the Cubs. Once again, the Cubs were crowned champions of Johnson County. The rain-plagued sectionals bought an end to Cub involvement in the state tourney. Center Grove won a rain-delayed contest 5-4 to end the Cub baseball season.

FCA Builds Christian Character

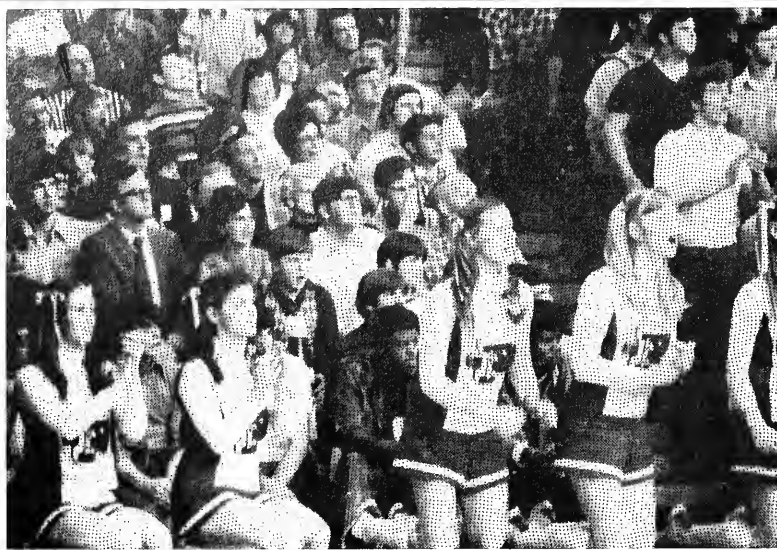

Every Friday morning about 7:30 the members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes gathered in the auditorium for their weekly meeting. Sponsors Mr. Fletcher and Mr. McKinney, along with club President Kevin McKinney, planned discussions, rented films, and secured speakers to make the meetings more interesting to the members.

An outside activity this year was the radio talks given by the members. These three to five minute talks were taped and played on WIFN.

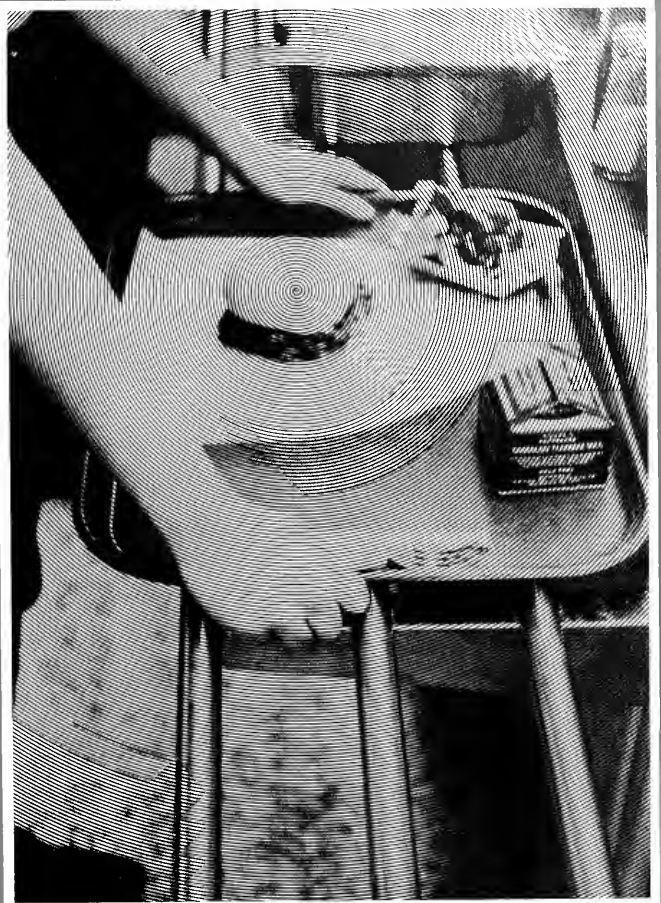

A canoe trip, a weekend conference at Wabash College and the summer FCA Conference were also undertaken by members.

Be Yourself

Seniors Honored on Last Day

The honors program for the seniors was held on May 25, Friday morning at 10:30. Senior girls who were members of the choir began the program. They were followed by Cindy Tranter and Beth Hodgen who read the class history. Mr. Turner, senior guidance counselor introduced the presenters of awards. Awards in the forms of scholarships, trophies, and certificates were given to many well deserving students. At the conclusion of the program the seniors joined in singing the traditional "Graduation Day." As the underclassmen returned to classes the seniors were dismissed to Providence Park for the senior picnic.

Senior Picnic: Wet and Wild

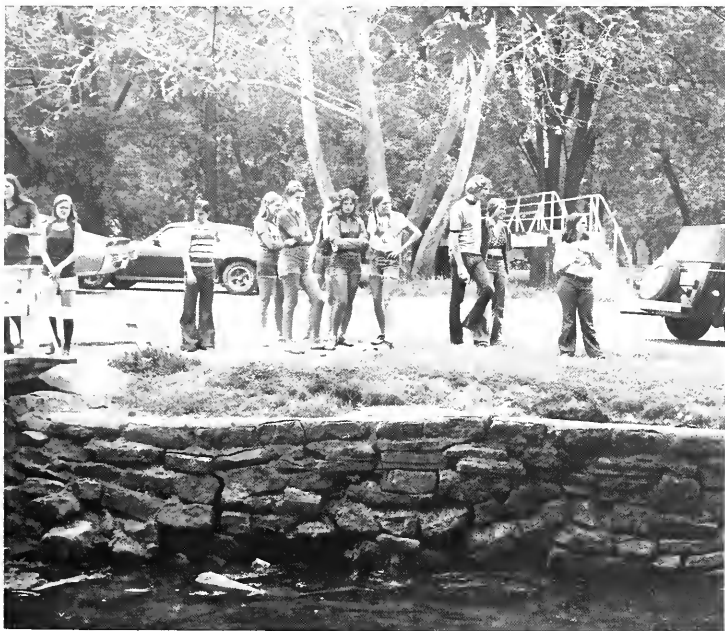

The senior picnic was a splash. Almost every senior and senior sponsor was forcefully thrown into Hurricane Creek resulting in lots of splashes. The first person to enter the creek was sponsor Mr. New-some. Some of the seniors hid out in the park during the entire picnic to avoid landing in the creek.

Before the creek episode, seniors feasted hungrily on ham sandwiches, baked beans, potatoe chips, salads, cookies, brownies, and cake. While a few seniors played football, others became involved in a game of tug-of-war across the creek, with the losing side continually crying "Unfair, unfair!" The picnic was a great success but all the seniors agreed the best part was trying to drown the sponsors.

May 27, 1973—that was the day of the colorful commencement of 236 seniors, the 101st graduating class of Franklin Community High School.

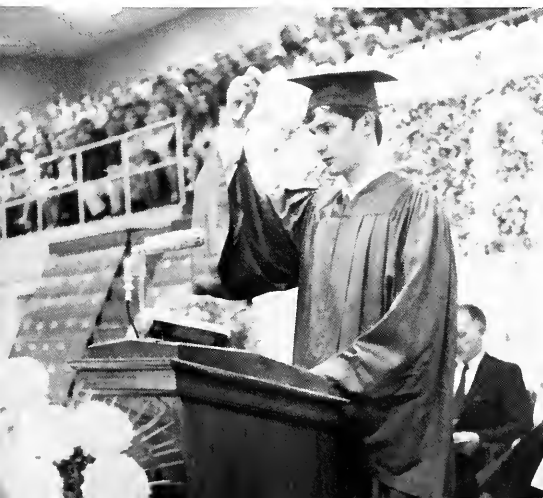

Before entering Vandivier Gymnasium, sophisticated seniors paused to straighten caps or to smooth the wrinkles of classmates' gowns. The somber and tense seniors marched slowly to their waiting seats at 8:00 as the school orchestra played "Pomp and Circumstance." Before the commencement began, there was nervous confusion about the sitting instructions; and as a result, part of the class remained standing while their classmates were sitting. Beth Hodgen addressed the seniors on "A Time for Us" and Mr. Breck presented the class to the school board. Then one by one, from the shortest to the tallest, the class received their diplomas. When President Virgil Cross led in the changing of the tassels, the tension broke and relief spread through the group. The class marched out quickly to the "War March of the Priest," turned in their caps and gowns and left four years behind.

Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate began at 2:00 p.m. on May 27. Junior class President Bob Colin opened with the invocation. Linda Roman gave the scripture reading and Rev. Kauffman of Tabernacle Christian Church spoke on "A Date with History." Sheryl Fisher delivered the benediction, closing the service.

Class of '73: Seniors of Accomplishment

The 101st graduating class left Franklin High School on May 27 taking many memories with them. Leading the class of '73 were President Virgil Cross, Vice-President Carol Henderson, Secretary Debbie Ford, and Treasurer Mike Breck.

Over their four years, these seniors had many accomplishments mixed with a few failures. They were the first to receive class rings as sophomores. The class was the first in over two decades to travel to the State Basketball Tournament and the only one to have a Trester Award winner in the school's history. The senior girls were victorious in the Powder Puff Football Game. On May 12, 1972, they gave the '72 seniors an "Underwater Paradise." The Speedway seniors, as a result of their adventures, succeeded in changing an established school policy.

The class was one of the only classes to avoid winning any awards for best-decorated hall during their four years of school. They never had a homecoming queen, but Debbie Ford reigned as Sweet-heart Queen.

Bonnie Perry

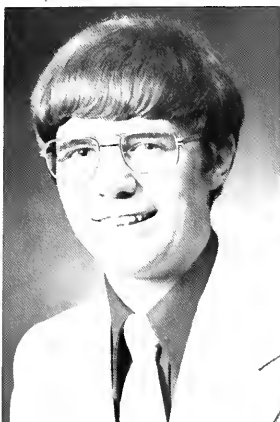

Top Ten

This year the honor of being in the top ten was shared by five boys and five girls. Bonnie Perry, valedictorian, led the class of '73 with a perfect scholastic record; and David Hanna was next as salutatorian.

The students in the Top Ten maintained through four years of high school a grade point average of 3.7. To be one of the top ten in a graduating class of 236 is, indeed, quite an honor. The 1973 KITE congratulates these people for their fine scholastic achievements.

Chaos, Ulcers, Confusion, and Fun—Prom '73

"Who tied this knot?" "Where's Colin and the wood?"
"Look out!"

Anyone entering the FCHS gymnasium before the prom might have heard any one of these familiar phrases reverberating through the air. Studies were quickly dropped into second place as committee meetings, work sessions, and worries over whether everything would be finished on time filled every junior's waking hours.

The preparations which took place hardly seemed adequate when looked at separately; yet it was a very satisfying feeling when the pieces all fit together to carry out the theme of this year's prom, "Magical Carousel," junior-senior prom of 1973.

Top right: Mr. Cox, David Sutherland, and Jeff Canary perform a traditional prom activity—untangling the parachute's seeming thousands of ropes.

'73 Prom: Magical Carousel

Illuminated by pastel lights and decorated with the sights usually seen at a carnival, Vandivier Gymnasium became a lively place during this year's prom. While dancing to the music of the Continentals, guests admired the gigantic carousel created as both the centerpiece and background for the throne. The entrance way had become the face of a huge clown. Servers, attired in clown suits, added to the carnival atmosphere as they served cookies and punch to the guests. Darrell Heuchan and Bobbie Cordell were crowned King and Queen of the Magical Carousel.

To end the evening, the local skating rink was transformed into Funsville as students skated and danced until dawn.

Juniors Join Ranks of Upperclassmen

Determination was proven by the juniors as they finished their third year at FCHS. Planning for a successful senior year and putting together the prom "Magical Carousel" were their biggest projects and problems. Sacrificing the excitement of backing the Cubs, many Juniors sold concessions during the basketball season to finance the prom for the seniors. They showed an interest in college as they spent Saturdays taking the PSAT and SAT for college applications.

Oktober Spirit Prevails

Much enthusiasm and Grizzle spirit marked the 1972 Homecoming Week which began on October 8. The week's activities opened with an enthusiastic display of Grizzle spirit as each class decorated a hall carrying out the theme, "The World of Disney." The halls were judged for best display and the sophomore class was awarded first place. Throughout the week students continued to show their spirit by following the various activities and contests planned for each day. During the pep session on Friday, Bob Dewitt was named "Mr. Irresistible," Harry Furrer was crowned "Mr. Muscle-Man," and Alan Routier became known as "Spirit Boy."

The climatic event of the week was Friday's game with Martinsville where the Grizzlies were defeated 35-6. To brighten everyone's spirits, Bobbie Umbright was crowned Homecoming Queen during halftime ceremonies by Patty Cordell, 1970 queen.

A fitting closing for the week was the Oktoberfest, the homecoming dance for this year held on Friday night in the Franklin College Campus Center.

Sophomores: Two Down, Two to Go!

A determined class of '75 started their high school career full of spirit and have carried it through a second year. Just stuck in the middle, they did not have the overconfidence of upperclassmen nor the shyness of freshmen. Putting two girls on the varsity cheerleading squad and receiving class rings were a few highlights of their year.

Valentine Tradition Continues

Cupid's traditional visit to FCHS was once again carried out at the annual Sweetheart Dance held in Webb Gymnasium.

Jointly sponsored by Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y, the dance was held on February 10 from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. Decorated in red and white crepe paper, the centerpiece was a covered walkway under which the guests danced to the music of the Southport Dance Band. Adding to the old-fashioned atmosphere was a heart-covered refreshment stand and archway entrance.

Freshmen Keida Stainbrook and Terri Colin, sophomores Vicki Woodrum and Cathy Henderson, juniors Sheryl Fisher and Lou Ann Williams, and seniors Debbie Ford and Jan Leerkamp competed for the title of Sweetheart Queen. Elected by secret ballot, Miss Ford was crowned Sweetheart Queen of 1973.

Enthusiastic "Spirit of '76" Enters FCHS

The "spirit of 76" radiated throughout the halls of FCHS as the freshmen became adjusted to the many changes of high school life. They became interested in the new classes and extracurricular activities which were available to them.

Much enthusiasm was shown by these students at all sporting events, especially their own. During sectional week activities, this enthusiasm was also evident in the frosh hall display. The class added a much needed $10 to their treasury by winning the hall decoration contest.

Convos: Exciting and Entertaining

Convocations, scheduled by the Student Council, proved to be exciting, eerie, and entertaining. These included Jamz Dalton and the Rosewood Rebellion; former 500 driver, Fred Agabashian; the musical group, The Caldells; Charles Henderson, one-man band; and a reptile lecture. The student body also enjoyed a drama class play and two student-oriented convos.

Far Right: Although bitten many times before, there were no mishaps during the lecture at Franklin. Below: Even though this tarantula appears to be quite harmless, it actually is very dangerous.

Experience Reigns in Administration

In his sixth year as administrative head, Mr. Breck once again kept the high school running smoothly. Helping him in this not too simple task was Mr. Pogue, whose duties during his illness were assumed by Mr. Server.

School policies and other important matters which occurred throughout the school year were discussed at the School Board's monthly meetings. An important decision made by the Board this year was the approval of the construction of several new buildings, including a girls' gym, a wrestling area, and an administrative building located north of FCHS.

Counseling and Guiding Towards the Future

New and exciting ideas came brimming over from our Guidance Department. Three new members, Mr. Turner, Mrs. Wheeler, and Mrs. Mullendore joined forces with our only veteran counselor, Mr. Server. The only other familiar face was the Guidance Department secretary, Mrs. Prosser. During Mr. Pogue's absence, Mrs. Sighting served as part-time freshmen counselor.

In addition to the scheduling of each class and the handling of whatever personal problems the students had, the counselors were also concerned with several group projects, such as College Night and Parent Counselor Night.

Top right: Advising seniors Matt Kelley and Dennis Million on future career choices is Mr. Turner, senior counselor.

Right: Part-time freshmen counselor, Mrs. Sighting, is caught in the familiar position of helping a young freshman with her problems.

Good Food, Good Service

Bottom Left: Keeping the school in good working condition are Mr. Wilkerson and Mr. Robertson. Above: Mrs. Limp and Mrs. Yaden serve dessert for the students' lunches.

Ten-heller, I just hope that you find this! Your just to popular that your year book is already full. I really don't know where to start I guess with all the things in Scouts! I remember the trip to Wyoming best, you and that one song! You played it over and over! $ The camporees we always froze are asses off at the swimming events! Remember?

Talking about the swimming, how could I leave out the swim team. I always enjoyed you. Because you were so much better! Now back to Scouts, I seems to me that after you dropped out of Scouts you and I sort of lost touch, that was a mistake!

I felt so out of place being with you and the gang, and I still do but I'm not going to let it bother me this year. This is Good Luck Always! and Be Careful.

P.S. Buddies! ¹ least a card!
for every Christmas!

To Jer - A tight
To friend from along ago, I hope we always keep in contact even if I go to Cookston, South Dakota, or get a job here know I might end up Franklin College & be an SAE for a while (yeah) we've had some really good times in the past but we still have a lot of work to do. We have every thing from walking around Franklin to walking around Jackson Hole to walking on Diamond Beach (remember that, Goose & Bob). I'll always remember the shit I took from Deloit, and you going to the Dancers. That's what a real friend would say.

You are A CHILD OF THE UNIVERSE, no less than the trees and the stars, you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Therefore be at peace with God, Whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul.

With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world.

Be careful.

Strive to be happy.

THANKS!!!

It takes a lot of hard work and effort to put together a yearbook. On this page, I would like to thank the people responsible for the production of the 1973 KITE.

How the fuck life been treating you pretty cool
I hope. Well I don't know were to start because we've done alot of shit like the week my parents were gone we had a hell of a time. Your not the best high I've ever highed either. But I guess if you not you try harder. Shit fly every chance I get well that's about it so keep the faith

P.S. I still don't agree with you about certain things I don't think
I need to explain

Fr Heifer Wynn Holmes

Well, everyone else has taken up a lot of page so I am going to to! There's been a lot that has happened in the past few years and I have a feeling there will be a lot more exciting times pretty soon if we're lucky! Don't forget about the parties in Franklin, and I'm sure there will be more good ones.

Oh, you can't forget our skinny-dipping adventures this summer, they were a lot of fun we can't forget.

Well at least we made it for our Senior Year which all of us weren't sure we'd make Don't get angry on you until later after school (if you know what I mean)!

Be a good Senior and get into a lot of trouble to keep the image up!

Be good when you are with Mom...
(You really don't have to)

Frankie

P.S. Be a good member of the family.
